OVERVIEW

WIDEN THE NET WITH CRIME STOPPERS.

Crime Stoppers collects tips from the public on community safety issues and passes them on to police for appropriate action. In doing so, Crime Stoppers and its local, provincial, national and international associations offer significant help to police in combating criminal activity.

Crime Stoppers is now successfully assisting police in 28 countries worldwide.

Crime Stoppers assist in solving a crime somewhere in the world every 14 minutes.

WHO ARE CRIME STOPPERS?

Crime Stoppers is an international non-profit community program run locally by a volunteer Board of Directors who oversee the program, raise funds and make reward payments. Crime Stoppers is not the police.

Community + Police + the Media
 = the Crime Stoppers winning formula.

THE COMMUNITY.

Individuals can call Crime Stoppers with information that may help stop, solve or prevent criminal activity and the callers' anonymity is guaranteed.

THE POLICE.

Police process information from Crime Stoppers, investigate and report back when a case is solved. If the information leads to an arrest then a reward may then be paid.

THE MEDIA.

The media assists by publicising unsolved crimes, crime reenactments, 'Crimes of the Week', cold cases, drug activity, 'Most Wanted' criminals, suspected terrorists and gang activity in newspapers, on TV, radio and websites. The media also helps raise funds and awareness of Crime Stoppers.

“Tackling crime effectively cannot be done by law enforcement alone, the support of the public is important and this is where the bridging role of Crime Stoppers International between the two can be so effective.

Working closely with agencies such as Crime Stoppers International means that police can be provided with information and tips which they may not otherwise receive which could be vital in bringing criminals to justice, no matter where they attempt to hide.”
