

Committee of the Year Award

West Country Committee

“The West Country Committee are composed of people from a wide range of backgrounds and different skill-sets but consistently come together to form a quite brilliant team”

Overview

Christmas parties, events on trains, innovative theatre ticket re-sale fundraising, graffiti projects for young people, golf days, to say nothing of the ubiquitous WWYD project, the West Country Committee constantly breaks new ground as it strives to reach and engage at every level with every community most in need of Crimestoppers services throughout the whole of the West Country. In addition, the Committee were pioneers for regional social media outlets and continue to make a terrific success of the same. With all members dedicated and committed to bringing to life what Crimestoppers can provide for communities the Committee enjoys massive respect from the widest range of supporters from PCC's and Chief Constables to community leaders, schoolteachers and parents.

Judges' comments

Judges commented that whilst the widely praised 'What Would You Do?' ('WWYD') project is the principal showpiece project it is but one of the huge variety of impactful initiatives undertaken by the West Country Committee both in the past and over the last 12 months. A consistently high achieving committee was the view of all the judges and with an inspirational chair and all members demonstrably active they were very much the most deserving of winners this year.
